CORE DIFFERENTIATOR

The Missing Link: Informal Payment Systems

In many economies, trade payments are settled outside the formal banking system through agent-based networks. This creates invisible financial flows that undermine revenue collection, foreign exchange monitoring, and policy effectiveness.

"This is exactly what GFB addresses. We bridge the gap between physical trade and financial documentation."

System Innovation: BLTVM

Bank-Linked Trade Verification Mechanism

A sophisticated national system linking bank-processed payments directly to trade documentation through unique transaction codes. This enables real-time verification and automated monitoring of cross-border financial flows.
